Hi Raji –

Thank you for returning my voice mail today. Sorry that I missed you. Per our exchanged messages, please find attached some suggested wording revisions (in redline/strikeout format) to specific sections of the current Community Involvement Plan (CIP). Please consider passing these suggestions on to your community relations folks for their review. As I indicated in my message to you, my concern with the existing wording in these sections of the CIP is that it could potentially be misunderstood by someone that is not familiar with the USOR site details. As you may recall, I had a similar concern with some of the initial wording in an early version of the site profile on EPA's web site and provided similar suggestions that you were kind enough to consider and incorporate into that document.

Please let me know if you have any questions or comments regarding these suggestions.

Thanks again.
